For twenty-five years, Beth Newman deStanley has made a name for herself in the local equestrian community. She began showing at an early age, and by eight was a member of the Loudoun Hunt. As a young adult, she won numerous hunter championships in Virginia, Maryland, Pennsylvania and Florida, including Ladies Hunter Champion at the Washington International Horse Show in 1993. Concurrently, she campaigned several jumper prospects up to the Grand Prix level. A champion steeplechase jockey, she captured the Virginia Point-to-Point Ladies Timber Rider title or runner-up seven times between 1993 and 2002.

Now as Foxrock owner and head trainer, deStanley shares her vast knowledge with her clients, and under her direction many students achieve excellence in the show ring and hunt field. She was voted Coach of the Year for the National Capital Equitation League (NCEL) for the last three seasons, and she coached the Champion NCAEL (Adult league) team in 2010 - 2011; the Reserve Champion team in 2011 - 2012; and the High Point and High Point Reserve riders for the league in 2011 - 2012.

Her professional qualifications and memberships include Professional Member USEF and USHJA; VHSA; Virginia Steeplechase Association; and Licensed Trainer and Rider National Steeplechase Association.

Nestled in the foothills of Western Loudoun County, Foxrock Stables offers both instruction by award winning trainers and state of the art equine accommodations.

Custom tailored lessons address the needs of beginners as well as seasoned equestrians looking to hone their riding skills. Trainer support and trailering are available for both A-rated shows and local venues. For the thrill seeker, foxhunting is scheduled on weekends during the season. Opportunities for leisurely trail rides are available year round.

The stable, grounds and training areas are nothing short of breathtaking. Call today to arrange a personalized tour of this remarkable facility.

FOXROCK STABLES

JUNE 30, 2012 1 - 4pm

OPEN HOUSE

Please join us for an Open House Celebration at our new Purcellville barn on Saturday June 30, 2012. Come stroll through our full service horse training and riding facility and meet owner Beth Newman deStanley, award winning rider, instructor and trainer. If you have interest in learning how to ride a horse for pleasure, seek more competitive challenges, or want a safe and friendly environment to board your horse, you won't want to miss this.

Activities scheduled throughout the day include:

- Tours of the barns and property
- Riding demonstrations
- Farrier demonstration
- Steeplechase and Foxhunting lectures

Meet some of our 40 horses and ponies in residence and enjoy free snacks and refreshments throughout the day.

Directions: From Purcellville, go south on South Maple Ave./Lincoln Road for one mile. Turn right to continue on Lincoln Road. Drive .6 miles and turn right onto Hughesville Road. Haps Lane is the second left.
